ADMITS HIS PROMISE TO

But Smith Says Miss Doty Knew He Was Married and That Promise Was Void.

William Edgar Smith, a resident of the Walderf-Asteria, filed yesterday through counsel an answer to the $1,000,000 breach of promise suit brought against him last Saturday by da kinawoman, Miss Cassie Mansfield Doty, who lives in the Hotel Tournine, The No. 9 East Thirty-ninth Street

The promise to marry was made in July, 1911, and the wedding was set for Feb. 6, 1912, according to Miss Doty's complaint. The amount asked, if calculated from the wedding date to the filing of the complaint, approximates 44 cents a minute.

Mr. Smith admits giving Miss Doty an engagement ring and making a promise to marry her, but alleges that she knew that at the time his promise was legally void because he was already married. He questions the validity of the divorce obtained by his first wife, Mrs. Louise Curtis Smith, in Reno on July 14, 1911, a day after he asked Miss Doty to marry him, according to her.

Mr. Smith says his mother objected te the marriage with Miss Doty, and that he and Miss Doty both agreed to abrogate the engagement.

His answer says further that he is largely dependent upon his mother, Mrs. William Van Rensselaer Smith. The fact that he is heir to the $5,000,000 trust fund left by his father, subject to his mother's life interest in it, does not alter the fact, he says, that he is not wealthy himself. He asserts that he is not in any business of his own.
